

Final Summary of WOMT Meeting on 5/19/09:

Recognizing the limitations due to current circumstances beyond the Projects' Operators control, WOMT will implement the USFWS' determination to hold the combined exports at no greater than 2,200 cfs/day, pending further discussions among the Agencies' Directors. This operational requirement is consistent with the Service's determination as set forth in the biological opinion for a 14-day average OMR flow no more negative than -1,500 cfs.

WOMT will reconvene via conference call on Friday morning (5/22) at 9:30 am to re-evaluate the real-time OMR and salvage conditions in preparation for the three-day weekend.

 UPDATE ***

The Agencies' Directors approved the holding of the Projects' exports at a combined level of 2,200 cfs/day through next Tuesday, May 26th.
